Double or Nothing Kim Sherwood

HarperCollins Publishers
RRP: $35.00

James Bond is missing...
007 has been captured, perhaps even killed by a sinister military company...
Meet the new generations of spies
The fate of the world rests in their hands and time is running out.

"James Bond has been one of the enduring loves of my life since I first watched Pierce Brosnan dive from the dam in Golden Eye. I was soon hooked on Ian Fleming's novels,' says Kim Sherwood.

'As a teenager, I chose Fleming when my English teacher asked us to write about an author we admired – I still have the school report. Since then, I've dreamt of writing James Bond. It's rare that dreams come true, and I am grateful to the Fleming family for this incredible opportunity. I feel honoured to be the first novelist to expand the Bond universe through the Double O sector, bringing new life to old favourites, and fresh characters to the canon. I couldn't be more excited to introduce the world to my Double O agents."

Kim Sherwood is a novelist and a Lecturer in Creative Writing at the University of Edinburgh. Her award-winning debut novel Testament was released in 2018, and in 2019, Kim was shortlisted for the Sunday Times Young Writer of the Year Award.

All That's Left Unsaid Tracey Lien

Harlequin Fiction
RRP: $34.99

A bold new literary voice that probes the intricate bonds of friendship, family and community through an unforgettable cast of characters, all connected by a devastating crime.

Tracey Lien's extraordinary debut is at once heart-pounding and heart-rending as it pulls apart the intricate bonds of friendship, family, culture and community that produced a devastating crime.

Combining evocative family drama and gripping suspense, All That's Left Unsaid is both a study of the effects of inherited trauma and social discrimination, and a compulsively readable literary thriller that expertly holds the reader in its grip until the final page.
